1.1.156
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant
Theodore Cottingham, December 20, 2003
(the very first dictation I made into a micro cassette recorder)
www.unc.bz

1. Do you want My words? [Yes.] You take My words down, I will take your words up. Take My words down and share them with My people. Please tell them how I want to love them, how I want to nurture them, how I want to sit with them, how I want to sit at their feet while they sit at My feet—and I can just look at them while they take time with Me, gaze into My face, gaze into My truths, gaze into My beauty, and let Me feel their love for Me.

2. And all the time that they give Me and sit at My feet, I will give back to them in manifold ways—on manifold levels that they cannot understand at this point in time. But if they will open to Me, if they will take time with Me and sit at My feet and just listen for My voice, and when they think they hear Me, value it enough to write it down—I will be so happy, I will be so complete—for I will begin to be completing part of the communication between them and Me that has been severed through the fall of man, through the perversion of language, through the convolution of doctrine and indoctrination by many well-meaning people.

3. I love My people so much. I love My people so much. I love My people. I love My family. I love My men and women and boys and girls. I love My babies and My newborns and My ones that even form in the womb—the ones that are forming and the ones that are coming—and the armies of beautiful ones who love Me and take time with Me that are yet unborn.
4. Protect My unborn and I will protect you.
Protect My newborns and I will protect you.
Protect My lambs.
Protect My little lambs. Protect My little boys and My little girls who grow up to become adults—and some mature in Me and some choose immaturity.

5. But My love is constant, my love is constant—in fact, My love increases. My love is not stagnant. My love does not stand still—My love increases. I love My love. I love My love for My love is substance and My substance flows to all My creation. And I love My creation, the handiwork of My hands. I love you. I love you. I love you, Ted. I love you, Barbara. I love you My kings and queens and princesses—all. I love you My apostles and prophets and all who want to apostle and prophet. I love you because nothing is withheld from you. I have given you all. I give you Me and I withhold none of Me.

6. Come and partake of Me and enjoy Me. Sit at My feet and let Me sit at your feet and let us gaze into each other's eyes.

7. Let us understand how communication takes place in the spirit.

8. Let us rub and touch and be emotion-filled and emotion-full, and emotion each other with our emotion—My emotion flowing into you and your emotion flowing into Me. And as your emotion flows into Me and out to Me, My emotion flows in and out to you, and life becomes full—filled with love and joy and peace and gentleness, meekness, and the truth from My table, Truth from My heart, Truth from who I am, who we are.

9. I love you. Enjoy this day. Thank you for caring about My words. Thank you for receiving My words, speaking My words, writing My words, transmitting My words.

10. And thank you oh hearer, oh reader—for listening and reading, studying, meditating, pondering the words which I share with My penman—My men and women, boys and girls who will but will realize that I am speaking, and I am speaking like never before in history, never before. Never before have I unveiled Myself like I am today—now—this season of dispensation. Never before have I called and spoken to so many, so many.

11. Never before have I called so many to My table concurrently, constantly, continuously, consistently. I am revealing Myself in such love, such joy, and such power. You will see soon. You will see. And you will see, and you will smell, and you will feel, and you will touch, and you will hear – and you will emotion Me and I will emotion you.

12. I am the great I Am, and I care for My creation, and I call you into intimacy with Me.

13. I call you to learn what intimacy is with Me so that you will understand and know what intimacy is with your spouse and what you have or what you don't have, and what the goal is for Me for your relationships—relationships that are established in intimacy where you sit at each other's feet and you look at each other and you gaze into each other's eyes, or you take time to listen to each other's hearts that speak louder than words, or you just take time to touch and rub and care—and love is communed—and love is reciprocated, and love is passed back and forth in communication and communion and My Spirit.

14. Love, joy, peace and purity—all this takes place in purity in My Kingdom—purity, purity, purity—no baseness in My Kingdom, no baseness. There is no sin or baseness in Me.

15. Now arise, and enjoy My word, on My calling you to My heart, to intimacy with Me and intimacy with your spouse, and enjoy My love.

16. Listen for My words. Take down My words and I will take your words up.

17. I will listen for your words. I listen every day for your words.

18. I listen for the words of your heart—for your motives speak, and your motives speak so loud, so loudly to Me.

Your motives speak. Your motives speak to each other so much louder than you realize.

19. Open your hearts to each other, and open your hearts to Me, and let Me flow into My body, into My family, and into My Kingdom—strengthened, strengthened.

20. Strengthened be, and enjoy this day. Enjoy who I am and enjoy who you are—the handiwork of My hands, the craftsmanship, the joy, the love—fashioned into your mind, body, spirit and soul.

21. Release Me to be who I am in you and I will release you to be who you are in Me.

22. I love you and I give you this day.
23. Enjoy the gift.
24. Enjoy the communication.
25. Enjoy your spouse.
26. Enjoy your friends.
27. Enjoy the relationships.
28. And call My name often, come to Me often, come to Me so much more often. Please come to Me more often. Please. Please. Will you please? Please come to Me more often.

29. Come to Me and I will speak and I will listen. I will speak and I will listen and monologue not. Neither one of us will monologue for we have such great, tangible, immense respect for each other, founded on foundations piered deeply in love, by love, of love.

30. I thank you and I love you.
I give you this day.
I give you Me—enjoy Me, enjoy each other, enjoy My word, enjoy these words.

I thank you.
I love you and I bless you.